Lights ON, Lights OFF

Authorities play hide-and-seek; Ring Road in darkness again

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (RK&BCT)- Motorists dread to travel on the 42-km-long Outer Ring Road (National Highway 275-K) during nights as the stretch is pitch dark in the absence of street-lights. Despite several announcements made by elected representatives, Ministers and officials, the road plunges into darkness after 7 pm, endangering the safety of hundreds of people using the motorway and residents of layouts beyond the road.

Constructed to prevent heavy traffic of trucks from entering the heart of the city and to provide a smooth ride for commuters entering the inner areas of city from Madikeri, H.D. Kote, Nanjangud, T. Narasipur, Bannur, Mahadevapura, Bengaluru and KRS, the Outer Ring Road is serving its purpose only during day time.

Lights are switched on only during Dasara since the last four to five years. Earlier, there was lack of clarity on who should operate and maintain the street-lights — is it the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) or National Highways Authority of India (NHAI). Following severe public criticism, days before every Dasara, meetings are held to fix responsibility of Ring Road maintenance but the solution seems to be a mirage.

Apart from the increasing number of accidents on the dark stretch, the road has become a haven for dacoities, robberies, abductions and immoral activities. Even though Highway Patrol cars and Garuda personnel keep doing the rounds, driving on this road in the middle of the night or early in the morning has become frightening. Most of the crimes occurring in Mysuru city are being reported on Ring Road.

Star of Mysore is flooded with calls and letters from time to time highlighting the issue but the published reports have fallen on deaf ears. The latest missive is from J.N. Sarvajith Kumar, a student of Journalism in Manasagangothri. He told this correspondent that there are no doubts that the Ring Road has made commuting easier for Mysureans as it connects major areas of the city and plays a key role in reducing city traffic.

Sadhguru rides in to meet Suttur Seer

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (RKB&SSB)- Attired in black pant, blue full-arm shirt and a black colour mask, the white-bearded Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev of Isha Foundation, Coimbatore, arrived on his favourite Ducati bike from Bengaluru to Mysuru to seek the blessings of Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji at the Mutt premises, foot of Chamundi Hill here this morning.

"My visit to Suttur Mutt is just a courtesy call. I had not met the Swamiji for the last one year due to COVID-19 pandemic. On my way to Coimbatore, I thought of having the Seer's darshan. I left Bengaluru at 5 am and arrived at Suttur Mutt at 8.20 am," Jaggi told the media persons.

An alumnus of University of Mysore, the Isha Foundation Founder said, his campaign 'Cauvery Calling' had received tremendous response from the people of both Karnataka and Tamil Nadu. Last year, farmers had planted 1.5 crore saplings in both States. Next year, they plan to plant 3.5 crore saplings in the fields of farmers.

New campaign

The Sadhguru said a new campaign, 'Free TN Temples' has been launched to save Hindu temples from the Government clutches. In Tamil Nadu, there are 44,000 temples out of which 37,000 temples were managed by just one person per temple. His job included performing puja and its maintenance. The TN Government did not have any interest on these temples. Due to lack of watch and ward, as many as 1,200 idols have gone missing from temples, he added.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The economic rationale for the Government's privatisation programme is to improve productivity of the firms it's selling. The means to achieve this aim are expected to come from the infusion of capital, new technology and management practices. The change in guard is expected to transform these firms into more competitive ones. The positive fallout of the process will be on jobs. In short, privatisation is seen as a way to revive these firms and not liquidate them. For employees of PSUs that are to be privatised there's an understandable anxiety about what happens to existing commitments the Government has made. In this context, Nirmala Sitharaman did well to clear the air. She emphasised that all commitments made to the employees will be fulfilled. This'll go a long way in mitigating the opposition to privatisation. For a resource-starved Government, there's no alternative. In the current stage of India's development trajectory, the priority is to shift public investment from airlines and banks into healthcare and education. Privatisation provides the best way for Government to quickly reallocate scarce resources. India's economic dynamism will be influenced by both the manner in which Government deploys its resources and the efficiency of the private sector. Measures such as the Insurance (Amendment) Bill introduced in the Parliament to enhance FDI in insurance companies from 49% to 74% aim to improve the efficacy of the private sector. — In The Times of India

Orders iPhone, gets iPhone-like coffee table

Bangkok: A Thai teenager, who had ordered cheap iPhone online, received a coffee table shaped like the Apple smartphone.

The box the phone was supposed to be in was almost as tall as him, so the teenager, whose name was not revealed by the media, knew right away that something was amiss. Only there was an iPhone in there, just not the kind he was expecting. If only he had read the product description a little carefully before making the purchase, he would have learned that the cheap phone was actually an iPhone-shaped coffee table.

The teen posted the photos of him and his purchase on social media, mentioning that he did find it odd that the phone was so cheap and the shipping costs were higher than usual, but he just couldn't pass up a bargain like that. Turns out there was no bargain.

Onlooker Sasaluk Rattanachai said: "They looked more like wild dogs than monkeys. They went crazy for a single piece of food."

Lopburi is home to thousands of wild monkeys that roam the streets and buildings.

Mysuru Water Supply and Sewerage Board need of the hour

Sir,

This refers to the news item titled 'High time for professional body to take over water supply' (SOM dated Mar. 20).

Vani Vilas Water Works (VVWW), which is more than 100 years old and coming under the aegis of Mysuru City Corporation, has served its purpose. Mysuru and its population has grown at a rapid pace in the last few years and VVWW is simply unable to manage and distribute water equitably to all Wards in the city, let alone the MUDA Layouts.

I stay in SS Nagar, Bannimantap 'B' Layout and we get water for 2-3 hours on alternate days. Go to VVWW, you'll find any number of people at any given time with all sorts of grievances.

With innumerable illegal connections (encouraged and patronised), unpaid bills in crores and no action taken, wastage and leaking pipes, meters not functioning and consumers' comfortably paying minimum amount for years or meters malfunctioning, resulting in inflated bills, water tankers mafia in some Wards in collusion with Corporators, corrupt Water Inspectors and other staff collecting bribes for favours is how we can describe the state of affairs in VVWW now. Crumbling UGD also needs total overhauling.

The demand of MP, MLAs and others to the Chief Minister to create Mysuru Water Supply and Sewerage Board (MWSSB) on the lines of BWSSB in Bengaluru is the need of the hour and cannot be postponed further. That our Deputy Commissioner is also in support of forming an autonomous body is welcome and should push the cause.

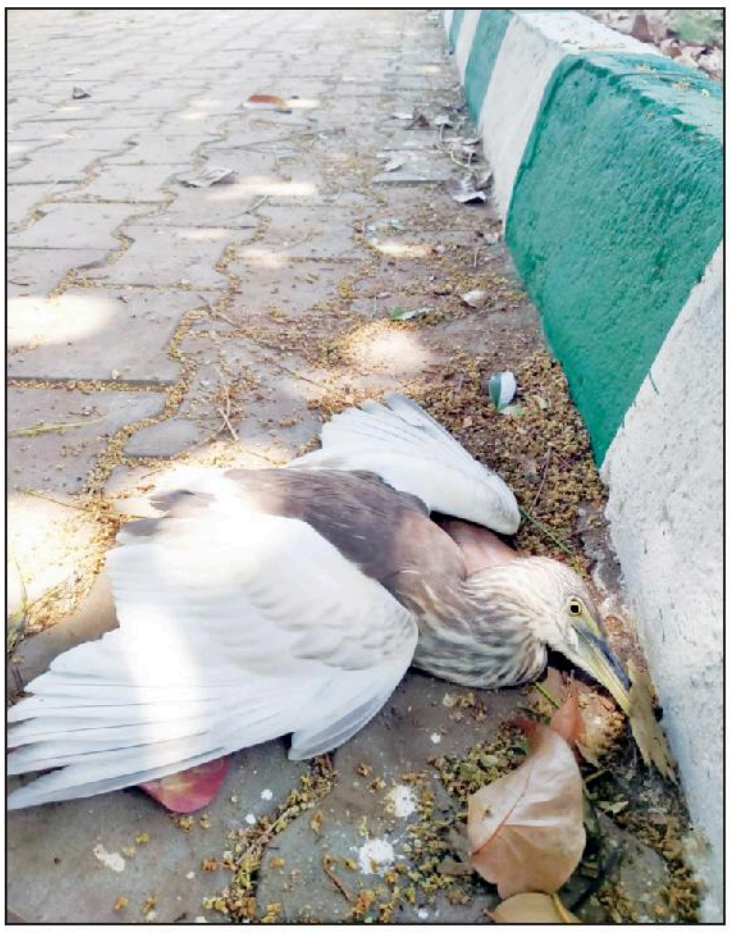
Birds death: MCC to clean drainage at Vijayanagar

Samples of dead birds sent to Bengaluru lab to ascertain the exact cause



Mysuru, Mar. 25 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has initiated measures to clean the drainage water near Kodava Samaja in Vijayanagar First Stage in the vicinity of Basava Bhavan following the death of four Pond Herons two days back. Following the deaths, residents of the area have demanded the MCC to act.

Carcasses of four Pond Herons were found near a park in the residential locality and the deaths triggered bird flu scare too. Acting swiftly, the Forest Department team visited the place and sent the samples of the dead birds to a laboratory in Bengaluru to determine the cause of death. It has been suspected that the death of the birds could be due to drinking contaminated water from the open sewers nearby.

While the residents of the locality and bird lovers opine that deaths of birds have become common in the area as many birds come to this shady area to feed and perch on trees, Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Dr. K.C. Prashanth Kumar said they have collected the samples and sent it to the laboratory for investigation and the reports would come in a week. "There is no need of pressing the panic button as it does not look like bird flu deaths. The birds could have died due to natural causes," he said.

It's summer time and birds are desperate to drink water and they would have consumed the stagnant drainage water that could have turned poisonous due to excessive heat, said birders. Savitha Nagabhushan of People For Animals (PFA) also said that polluted water or accumulated chemicals could be the reason for birds death.

"There is no other water source for birds except the polluted drainage water. Daily 4-5 birds such as Cattle Egrets and Pond Herons are dying. MCC has to get the drainage cleaned and provide a clean water source for birds at all parks. Most of the parks do not have water troughs for birds. The MCC must act in this regard," she said.

COVID spike

Keep Mandakalli COVID Care Centre ready, DC tells Health Department

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (PM&SSV)- In the wake of spurt in Corona positive cases, DC Rohini Sindhuri has asked the authorities concerned to keep the COVID Care Centre (CCC) that was established at the Academic Bhavan of Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) in Mandakalli ready for any emergency.

Chairing a District-level Officers meeting here yesterday, she directed officers of Health Department to not only keep the CCC ready but also to prepare duty chart of healthcare workers so that it could be used during emergency. Since the number of Corona positive cases was climbing in the district, RT-PCR test must be ramped up, she said and added that the Deputy Director, Department of Public Instructions, must issue a circular to Schools to conduct test for students as early as possible following 19 students of Bannur School testing positive for Corona.

CHECK-POST AT KOPPA

The DC issued directions to open another check-post at Koppa in Periyapatna taluk which shares border with Kodagu District to check visitors from Kerala. This check-post, which had been opened last year, was subsequently shut after positive cases came down. As Kerala was reporting high number of positive cases in the last one month, it was better to re-open Koppa check-post for double checking of Kerala visitors. Two days ago, one more check-post was opened near Nanjangud. "There are three entry points to Karnataka from Kerala, and all of them will be made active to screen the people," she added.

On 19 Bannur School students testing positive, she asked Health Department to test other students, teachers and parents as precautionary a measure. The affected kids were home quarantined, the DC noted.

Plea to name Film City as Wadiyar Film City

Bhoomi Puja to be held within a month, says Minister

Bengaluru, Mar. 25 (BCT)- Information and Public Relations Minister C.C. Patil has announced that the Bhoomi Puja for Film City in Mysuru would be performed within a month and the project will start immediately after that. The State Government has already said that the ambitious project will be back to its originally-proposed location at Himmavu in Nanjangud Taluk of Mysuru.

Patil was speaking to film producers, directors and distributors at Karnataka Film Chamber of Commerce (KFCC) yesterday where a function was organised to felicitate the Minister after he assumed charge of Information and Public Relations Department.

"It is a biggest dream of Kannadigas and all those who are associated with film industry since the time of Natasarvabhouma Dr. Rajkumar that a Film City must be constructed and we have taken the right steps in this regard. The Government realises that this is an essential project for film industry revival. We have already reserved 110 acres of land at Himmavu and the Bhoomi Puja would be performed within a month. We have to get the Himmavu land transferred from the Revenue Department to the Information and Public Relations Department," Patil said.

Former KFCC President S.R. Govindu urged the Minister to name the Film City that is coming up in Mysuru after Wadiyars. 'Wadiyar Film City' would be an apt name as the contribution of Wadiyars to the growth and development of Karnataka is innumerable. "Wadiyars have always stood behind Kannadigas and as the Film City is coming up near Mysuru, naming the Film City after Wadiyars would be a befitting tribute. Wadiyars have promoted art, literature and culture that are integral parts of the film industry," Govindu said.

KFCC President D.R.Jairaj, Vice-President Umesh Banakar, Secretary N.M. Suresh, Producers Association President Praveen Kumar, former President Chinne Gowda and others were present on the occasion.

DECODING MYTHOLOGY

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Krishna & the Eloping Women

We live in times where many people cannot handle the idea of adult women choosing their own husbands. Perhaps it is time to revisit the eloping women in sacred Krishna lore.

Krishna is famous for playing the flute at night. On hearing this, the milkmaids of Vrindavan would leave their houses to dance around him in the middle of the forest. This union took place at night in the forest, outside of the village, with women, some of whom were married. This description, found in Harivamsa, Gita Govinda, and Tamil Sangam poetry, is a rather radical idea. It speaks of how love and desire transcend social structures. His relationship with Radha is mired in controversy. He is never shown marrying her. Many metaphysical explanations are offered for this. It is considered a folk idea or a tantric idea, because it challenges the patriarchal norm of Vedic puritanism.

Shiva, by destroying Daksha's sacrifices, challenges blind puritanism. Likewise, the rule-breaking Krishna complements the rule-following Ram and contextualises love alongside law. Krishna, of all the Gods, wears women's ornaments, to entertain the women of his village. These are also put on him by his mother to protect him from the 'evil' eye, and by milkmaids who want to tease him in mock punishment.

He wears anklets, a nose ring, has a hair plait and alta on the palms of his hands and soles of his feet. His bent stance, known as tribhanga, is feminine, which earns him the title "Banke Bihari."

When Rukmani is being forced into marriage with Shishupal, she sends Krishna a note requesting him to help her elope. Krishna agrees to that wish and marries her. His sister, Subhadra, wants to marry Arjuna. Their brother, Balarama, opposes this match. But Krishna supports her decision. He advises her that while eloping on a chariot she should hold the reins in her own hands. This would then reveal to Balarama that the elopement is of her choice and she is not being abducted.

When Balarama's daughter Vatsala falls in love with Arjun's son Abhimanyu, and does not want to marry Duryodhana's son Laxmana-kumara, Krishna gets Ghatotkacha to enable the girl to escape with a man of her choice. When Duryodhana's daughter, Lakshmana-kumari, wants to marry Krishna's son, Samba, against her father's wishes, Duryodhana imprisons his daughter and Samba, forcing Balarama to rescue and liberate the lovers.

Krishna's son, Pradyumna, is abducted when he is a child. The lady, Mayavati, who raises him, in captivity, falls in love with the child. This unconventional relationship between Pradyumna and the woman who raises him is allowed in the Bhagavad Puran. The reason being that, in the previous life, they were Kamadeva and Rati. Thus, this union between an older woman and a younger boy is acceptable.

And finally, there is the story of Krishna's grandson, Aniruddha. He is in love with Usha. Usha's father opposes this match and imprisons Aniruddha and Usha. Krishna, along with Pradyumna, Balarama and the entire Yadav army, attack Usha's father's kingdom. They liberate the lovers and celebrate their union. All these stories are where women's choices are upheld. They stand in stark contrast to the scenario that we see unfolding in the Gangetic plains today.

Guest lecturers seek regularisation of service, PG hostelites protest sub-standard food

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (RKB&KS)- Women guest lecturers, numbering more than 50, who are working in Government Degree Colleges, staged a dharna in front of Deputy Commissioner's Office here this morning under the banner of Government Degree Colleges Guest Lecturers State Coordination Committee, Mysuru Division.

Their demands included regularisation of services of all guest lecturers, social security and fixed recruitment rules.

The protestors alleged that they were being exploited continuously for many years and they don't have job security. As on 2020-21, of the total 14,183 guest lecturers, 7,400 were female, they added and demanded the State Government to give them job security, PF and ESI facilities.

They warned of staging an indefinite fast in front of the residence of the Chief Minister, if their demands were not met.

President of Government Degree Colleges Guest Lecturers State Coordination Committee, Mysuru Division, Dr. G. Shamala, Vice-President N.M. Manasa and others took part in the dharna.

PG Hostel inmates

About 100 inmates of 'A' Block PG Hostel in Manasagangothri campus staged a flash protest against sub-standard food being provided to them and also usage of expired food products and rotten vegetables.

The protesting students threw the vegetables and food in front of the Crawford Hall Gate this morning and staged a protest.

Varsity Registrar Prof. R. Shivappa, who met the protesting hostel inmates, assured them of getting the quality of the food, vegetables and food ingredients checked besides stating that he would issue a warning to the food caterer. The Registrar also assured the students of taking action against the caterer if the same is repeated,

Lights ON, Lights OFF

"The Ring Road is a favourite spot for cyclists and fitness enthusiasts. But sadly, there are no street-lights and travelling on this stretch during nights and early in the morning is a nightmarish experience. It's pitch dark and leads to accidents and worsening the situation, the Police have erected barricades right on the middle of the road to prevent over-speeding. However, many cannot see the barricades as they become blind spot, leading to accidents" he said.

Sarvajith added that there has been an increase in crimes such as robberies and chain-snatchings and even hit-and-run cases. "It will be a relief for commuters if the authorities shed 'light' on the issue and solve this at the earliest," he said.

According to MUDA officials, the Ring Road has 2,135 electric poles and each pole has two lights — 4,270 bulbs. "We have replaced the burnt-out bulbs and still the problem persists as rodents have eaten off the wires as they have been laid under the box drain that has been constructed on the middle of the Road. These wires have to be re-insulated," they said.

Over 1,136 electricity poles of the total 2,135 come under MUDA while the rest come under the jurisdiction of MCC and Zilla Panchayat (ZP). The MCC has already floated global tenders to replace over 80,000 street-lights across the city including bulbs along the Ring Road, officials added.

Rs. 5.25 crore project to replace rodent-eaten wires: Pratap Simha

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (RK&BCT)- When the issue of dark and dangerous Ring Road was brought to the notice of Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, he told Star of Mysore this morning that a project is being finalised by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) and National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) to replace all the underground rodent-eaten wires along the Ring Road. "It is a Rs. 5.5 crore project where strong cabling plastic pipes would be laid first and then wires would be drawn. "This will prevent rodents from chewing on the wires and would be a permanent solution. Once the wire network is set right, LED lights would be fixed as per the State Government project of replacing 80,000 bulbs in Mysuru city with LED bulbs for which the MCC has already called for global tenders," he said.

Before Dasara 2021, the entire stretch of the Ring Road would be asphalted with a Central grant of Rs. 160 crore and road medians would be beautified and trees will be planted on medians. "We are already in talks with the Namma Mysuru Foundation and we have asked for designs. Asphalting, median beautification and LED lights would be a reality on Ring Road soon," he added.

Sadhguru meets Suttur Seer

According to a book written by a retired TN Police Officer, the number of stolen idols has crossed 9,000. Many idols were as old as 800 to 1,000 years. Need of the hour was to protect and conserve those neglected temples, the Sadhguru added.

Asked whether his Foundation will launch a similar campaign in Karnataka, Jaggi Vasudev did not give any commitment. He said during election, the voters are kings and the politicians were servants. But their roles will reverse after polls.

On the occasion, Sri Siddalinga Swamiji of Siddaganga Mutt, Tumakuru, Sri Jayarajendra Swamiji, Junior Seer of Suttur Mutt, Chunchanahalli Swamiji, Mayor Rukmini Madegowda and former MLA Vasu, who is celebrating his birthday today, were also present at the Mutt.

Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev called on Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji in city this morning. Others seen are Sri Siddalinga Swamiji of Siddaganga Mutt, Chunchanahalli Swamiji and Sri Jayarajendra Swamiji of Suttur Mutt.

Addressing a press meet here on Wednesday, AITUC leader Devadas said that the Centre has cared little for the farmer agitation which began four months ago, during which nearly 100 farmers have lost their lives. He said that it will be a six-hour Bharat Bandh from 6 am to 12 noon in the city.

CITU leader G.Jayaram said that farmers and Industrial workers will stage a symbolic demonstration at Gandhi Square from 10 am till 2 pm.

Meanwhile, KRRS led by Vidyasagar Ramegowda said that a mock funeral of the three Central farm laws will be taken out in city as part of the Bandh.

'Technology and distance education must go hand in hand'

Workshop on 'Development of online resources for effective learning' to conclude tomorrow

Prof. Lingaraja Gandhi, Registrar, KSOU, lighting the lamp during the inauguration of workshop on 'online resources' at KSOU on Monday.

Mysuru, Mar. 25 (PM&SSV)- Technology and distance education must go hand in hand. Lecturers must think in direction of making optimum utilisation of online coaching, opined Prof. Lingaraja Gandhi, Registrar, Karnataka State Open University (KSOU).

He was speaking after inaugurating a five-day workshop for the University lecturers on 'Development of online resources for effective learning' organised jointly by KSOU and Commonwealth Educational Media Centre for Asia (CEMCA) at the Cauvery Auditorium here on Monday.

Prof. Gandhi said that the workshop will be of great help to prepare lecturers for e-teaching tools. In fact, such workshops had not been held in traditional Universities so far. The KSOU lecturers must take advantage of the same. The CEMCA has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Open University on preparation of e-teaching aids for effective distance teaching and quality coaching.

Hitherto, there was no rule for the Open Universities to take University Grants Commission (UGC) NAAC accreditation but now, those Varsities have been given opportunity. To get NAAC recognition, the KSOU has already done preparation and training was being given to lecturers by CEMCA. Besides, the Company was bearing the cost of three-day workshop that comes to around Rs. 1.25 lakh.

Earlier, Prof. S. Vidyashankar, Vice-Chancellor, KSOU, who inaugurated the workshop, said that the Varsity has provided basic infrastructure in Information, Technology and Communication. Every lecturer, who participates in this workshop, must share his/ her experience in writing. Teaching methods that would be used in future, were being taught to lecturers in the ongoing workshop, he added.

Training was being given at Science Bhavan Laboratory. As many as 74 lecturers were participating in this workshop. CEMCA Director Dr. Madhu Parhar and Senior Programme Officer Manas Ranjan Panigrahi participated online.

Gurumurthy Kasinathan, Director and Founder, IT for Change, Bengaluru, Prof. K.M. Mahadevan, Registrar (Evaluation), Dr. Sumathi Ramakrishnagowda, Nodal Officer, CEMCA, were present during the inaugural ceremony.

One year late, Coronavirus-delayed Tokyo Olympics Torch Relay begins

Tokyo, Mar. 25- The Tokyo Olympics torch relay kicked off today, a year late and without spectators, heralding a major step towards the start of the Coronavirus-delayed Games on July 23.

The rose-gold, cherry blossom-shaped Olympic torch was lit at the J-Village sports complex in Fukushima, which served as a base for operations responding to the 2011 nuclear disaster.

Speaking at the launch ceremony, Tokyo 2020 Chief Seiko Hashimoto said she hoped the Olympic flame would serve as "a ray of light at the end of the darkness".

"This little flame never lost hope and it waited for this day like a cherry blossom bud just about to bloom," she added.

The nationwide relay, like the Olympics themselves, will be vastly different from previous editions, with spectators banned from cheering and kept away from the launch and first leg over Coronavirus concerns.

Fans will be able to line the route and clap as the flame traverses the country, borne by 10,000 runners and passing through all 47 prefectures before arriving at Tokyo's National Stadium for the July 23 opening ceremony.

But parts of the relay could be suspended if too many spectators gather in one place, and masks are mandatory for onlookers.

Organisers were making final preparations for the relay last year when the coronavirus prompted the historic decision to postpone the Games, as sport around the world ground to a halt.

A year on, the pandemic is still in full swing despite vaccine rollouts, and organisers are battling public scepticism in Japan about holding the Olympics. With overseas spectators barred from the Games and limits likely on domestic fans, the relay is seen as a vital opportunity to build enthusiasm.

"The torch relay is intended to communicate that the Olympic Games will take place," Tokyo 2020 CEO Toshiro Muto told reporters this week.

"It makes people feel that the Games are about to start — that's the nature of the torch relay."

WORD OF THE DAY

Inimitable

Pronunciation: in-IM-it-uh-bul.
Meaning: Not capable of being imitated : matchless.
Origin: Something that is inimitable is, literally, not able to be imitated. In actual usage the word describes things so uniquely extraordinary as to not be copied or equalled, which is why you often hear it used to praise outstanding talents or performances. (The antonym imitable describes things that are common or ordinary and could easily be replicated or surpassed.) Inimitable derives via Middle English from Latin inimitabilis. Be careful not to confuse it with inimical or inimicable, two adjectives meaning "hostile" or "harmful"; those words derive from the same Latin root that gave English enemy—inimīcus.
Example: "There aren't that many beauty and fashion icons who can captivate fans for a span of decades, but Miss Piggy is surely one of them. To celebrate her inimitable look, she now has her very own makeup collection, a collaboration between Disney and Ciaté London." — Celia Shatzman, Variety, 2 Nov. 2020.

THE ODD WORD

Ickle
Little.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

In a Pickle

Meaning: A person is in a difficult situation.
Origin: The origin of the phrase in a pickle goes back to at least the 17th century. It was utilized in a play called The Tempest by William Shakespeare in 1611. There are two characters in the play, Alonso and Trinculo, who both use the expression while speaking to each other:
"Alonso. And Trinculo is reeling ripe: where should they Find this grand liquor that hath gilded 'em?
How camest thou in this pickle?
Trinculo. I have been in such a pickle since I saw you last that, I fear me, will never out of my bones: I shall not fear fly-blowing."
The meaning of this phrase was different back then. Today, it means "to be in a rough spot," but in Shakespeare's play it means "to be drunk." Accordingly, some modern English translations of this play render what Trinculo said as: "I have been so drunk since I last saw you," or something along those lines.
So when did this idiom develop its modern meaning? This happened not long after the Shakespeare play. For example, Samuel Pepys used the phrase in the mid-17th century. He wrote it down in his diary in the year 1660: "At home with the workmen all the afternoon, our house being in a most sad pickle."
